

about but never thought really existed." No special plans for the summer, but "looking for a story idea that will necessitate a trip to California."

Pete Fusco, just about through with M.A. work in art history at Brown, is planning to enter Harvard next year for Ph.D. work. He is looking for an apartment to share in Cambridge. If anyone can help him out, write him at: 74 Olive St., Providence, R.I. (751-9177). Sharing an apartment with him now is Hugh Smyster, who is working as a free-lance photographer in Providence.

As announced before, Hank Grass and Patricia Ray will be married July 5th in Pittsburgh, after which they look forward to a trip West to the national parks.

Damon Hart is working full time with computers for the Navy in Washington, and has also enrolled in a graduate program at American U. Bryan Hickman reports: "Plans are still uncertain — either I'll be in Army Intelligence on a direct commission or working for USAID somewhere depending on the draft board — once I'm done at the Woodrow Wilson School." Jack Hunt: "I think all my fellow Williams-Navy-types will understand when I say the Navy 'still does.'"

Rob Jones will be counselor at a diabetic children's camp near Charlottesville, Va., this summer.

Peter Koenig has nothing about his life to tell, but wants to relate a story about Steve Orr. Steve was temporarily "passed over in his promotion from ensign to lieutenant junior grade. He managed to screw up the whole military system with threats of refusing to accept his promotion when it was finally offered him."

George A. Lee plans to be married to Marianne Cooper in Baltimore on June 13, and extends an invitation to any classmates in the area.

Bill McClung, with gentle nudging from Gen. Hershey, has postponed Ph.D. work in math at Columbia until age 26, and has picked up a job teaching math at Fieldston School in Riverdale (N.Y.). Finds it rewarding and has Rob Perlstein's younger brother, Arnie, as a student. Does Rob know this? He just spent a week South on the Gulf of Mexico, is now back at Duke Med. School seven weeks short of completing sophomore year there. Reports that Stu Elliott has "seven more months in Nam." Arnie DeBeaufort also in Nam."

Jon Macomber is steaming toward the Gulf of Tonkin aboard the nuclear aircraft carrier Enterprise. Brian Murphy is a CARE representative in Algiers.

Morgan Nields broke his leg skiing last December, plans to work in Paris for the summer. Still at Tuck School up in Hanover, he heard from Betsy Rikert that Dave is climbing the north face of the Eiger (?) "directissima!"

With an M.A. (in Pol. Sci?) from Berkeley, Pat O'Donnell is doing rural development work for the Peace Corps in Togo. His address there is, c/o Corps de la Paix, B.P. 852, Lomé, Togo.

Charlie Parham is also in the Peace Corps in the Philippines, as reported in the last notes. Eleanor and Bill Peachy plan to return this summer from Peace Corps work in Turkey. Ann and Mark Piechota are also planning to return from Peace Corps work, Africa.

Joel Rosenthal was married to Emily S. Berger Jan. 26 in Jamaica, N.Y., and honeymooned in Guadeloupe, French West Indies.

Terry Sands claims he is working hard at U.Va. Law School, yearns to ski and succumbed to the urge by making a trip north with Harry Tether and Bob Ingalls. Tether receives his MBA from Columbia this June. Terry plans to work with a Boston law firm this summer.

Dave Saylor, second year at Harvard Law, will be working this summer with Hogan & Hartson in Washington, D.C. Says he talked to Jody and Jeff Modesitt recently — they have two children now, a daughter Jill as well as their first child Jeff, Jr.

Janet Lynn Greco and Fred Sleezer were married last December in Philadelphia. Next year Fred will take a leave of absence from Ph.D. work in Spanish at Cornell to become chairman of the Spanish Department at Groton Central School (Groton, N.H.). Len Spencer is making a switch from teaching English in Enosburg, Vt., to teaching English and art in Cabot, Vt. Cabot has the smallest high school (57) in Vermont, and is apparently holding out against joining a union school to retain that distinction. Len Spector: 10th grade English at New Rochelle Academy with summer plans to work for Mobilization For Youth Legal Services in N.Y.C. Dennis Sullivan: Princeton economics, Ph.D. track.

To whom it may concern: Steve Salm is alive, well, and starting grad school at University of California at Santa Barbara.

Chick Tucker, now attached to the USS Barney, reflects on the Navy: "The Navy is a masterplan devised by geniuses for execution by idiots. If you're not an idiot, but find yourself in the Navy, you can operate well only by pretending to be one."

Kirk Varnedoe will spend the summer in Paris and London doing research on Rodin drawings. He reports a goodly flow of classmates through Frisco — Cadwell Tyler, John Olmstead, Thomas Haack and Paul Lipof. "Lipof came through in the fall, fresh from Alaska, complete with harmonica, dried salmon and backpack — pushing his 'natural man' image hard and thirsting for issue No. 111 of Hulk which published one of his letters."

Roger Walke is back from Liberia, where he spent last fall doing anthropological research.

Wes Westmeyer, in that inimitable jesting style, reports he passed "my preliminary oral exam for the Ph.D. and, oh yeh, got married." (Details undisclosed.)

I ran across Dan Whitmore in the Snack Bar (Baxter Hall) in early April. Dan has been teaching college English in Memphis, with an M.A., and was on his way to Boston looking for a similar job there.

Tom Phelan might possibly interview for Williams admissions this summer. He has been working full-time as a liaison between Williams admissions and New York City candidates, and moonlighting by teaching special students part-time in New York City P.S. 62.

Up to Williamstown for the mid-winter Alumni Weekend were (among the counted): Bud Hurd, Damon Hart, Chris Covington, and Tom Phelan. I was there too, but don't remember much of the weekend to report. Yeh, kind of like DU lawn party.

Rick Yieser will soon announce the completion of his book, Machiavelli and Compulsory Military Service: Mixing Patriotism with Pragmatism, or How to Con the Army.

Peter Fusco was one of seven graduate students in the art department of Brown University to prepare, in the third and final semester of a sequence of courses in Methods of Art History, an exhibition containing 22 items and entitled "The Portrait Bust — Renaissance to Enlightenment." This was the first exhibition prepared by graduate art history students at Brown University. It was open during March at the Museum of Art, Rhode Island School of Design.

President, Thomas C. Demakis; Secretary, Robert H. Gillmore; 2 Perrotto Ave., Claremont, N.H. 03743; Agent, Thomas H. Pierce

Secretary Gillmore reports:

Responses from postcards mailed to the first half of the class alphabetical list show a large number in military service.

Rusty Barton enlisted in the Air Force at Boston Army Base (where he saw Navy OC Clint Wilkins) and took basic training at San Antonio, Tex. He writes that he has "applied to officer training school" and, in response to the question whether he will be in Williamstown this summer, concludes: "Sorry — four years of Air Force ahead!"

Ex-Ephlat Tom Beach writes that he is "still following the guidance, leadership and protection of Uncle Sam." Tom, enlisted for three years, is an Army psychologist ("token assignment") at Fitzsimons General Hospital in Denver. Will he be back in Williamstown? "Not a chance — I've already borrowed next year's leave . . . Yeah, Gillsy — I'm still an E-2 (private)." Tom says he wants to return to school in music.

Clarence S. Wilson, Jr. '67 of Brooklyn, N.Y., has been named to the foreign service and will be assigned to a position with an embassy or consulate in one of the 113 countries with which the United States maintains diplomatic relations or with the state department in Washington.

Bill Calfee graduated from Navy OCS and is now "engineering division officer" aboard a "destroyer home-ported in San Diego" and will complete his service Nov. 20, 1971, when, he writes, he will go to grad school and visit Williamstown again.

Geoff Connor graduated from Navy OCS Mar. 14 and will be at Harvard Law after three years active duty.

John Davis, another OCS grad, left Newport in April "aboard a new supply ship, USS Wichita" for Long Beach, where, he writes, he will remain for six months before deploying for "points west." He expects to get out Dec. 20, 1971, or "perhaps a little earlier to start grad school on time." John said he would try to stop in Williamstown before he left for California.

Class president Tom Demakis left Columbia Law after only a month or so to take U.S. Army Reserve training at Fort Dix from Nov. 26 to April 4. Pancho writes: "I'm still breaking records for academic excellence. Graduated 34th out of 44 in my clerk-typist course." Pancho later confessed that he is "only 23 words per minute." He was also "not getting as much sack time as I'm used to — down to about 10 hours a night." He says he'll "try to go to Reserve OCS this summer before returning to Columbia Law in September to start my legal education all over again."

In Philadelphia, the Panch said he saw old roommate Dave Snyder now at U. Penn. Med., and Bruce Thall, at Penn. Law. "Bruce fixed me up with a Bennington '68, now at Penn. Law. The old Panch has finally arrived socially."

Panch said he planned "to be in Williamstown this spring and again this summer for reunions."

Dick Dickerson graduated from Navy OCS Mar. 14 and is now in six-month Navy supply school at Athens, Ga. After three years of service, Dick wants to go to grad school — "architecture-urban design."

John Dirlam graduated from Navy OCS in April and will also serve a three-year commitment.

Dave Earle writes that he is "head of the French department at the Verde Valley School, Sedona, Ariz." He expects "to study French and Spanish in France this summer" and to face the draft by signing up for the Army language school program, or as he puts it, to study Russian at the "Monterrey Military Academy." He says he should be in Williamstown "probably in the early summer to sneer at my soph brother, John, and test myself for nostalgia."

Mal Grant is serving a three-year hitch with Navy Sea Bees. He is now a third-class petty officer home-ported at Davisville, R.I. He leaves in July for eight months in Vietnam. He plans to get his "M.A.T. in history under an OEO fellowship at Johns Hopkins" following service.

John Graves wants to study "architecture at Yale or Penn." following his three-year Navy officer tour.

Gary Henderson reports that he is doing "pushups" at Army Artillery OCS at Ft. Sill, Okla., and that Paul Youngs was in the program briefly. Gary says he'll be in Williamstown in August "recruiting others into this macabre mess."

Peter Hood is in the Army Signal Corps school at Ft. Monmouth, N.J. He saw Steve Sease in Washington, D.C., and John Lyons at George Washington Law School.

Ken Jackson took Army basic training at Ft. Polk, La., and engineering training at Ft. Belvoir, Va. Following two years service, he plans English grad school. He met Linda and Don McGill in Lynchburg, Va., where Don is teaching, and Ronnie Yee on a weekend Vassar roadtrip.

Bob Lux graduated from Navy OCS in March and is also in supply school at Athens, Ga.

Pete Sartorius, now a Navy ensign, will be married this summer to Barbara Anne Valentine of Remsenburg, L.I.

Tony Bliss is a conscientious objector and plans to begin grad work at UCLA this spring. Tony writes that Lloyd Thomas, in Los Angeles, has also applied for conscientious objector status.

The next largest group are grad students.

Joe Adelson, in clinical psychology at North Carolina, reports seeing Bick Dickerson, Bob Lord, Scott Miller, Al Swan and Rog Wolmuth on New Year's Eve in New York.

John Angle, in sociology at Columbia, saw Frank Reed and Jeff Palmer at the law school and Glenn Everhart, who is "thinking up new hoaxes to play on U. of Penn."

Clayt Baum, in physical chemistry at Princeton with roommate Mark DeCamp, recently saw Al Sklaver and wife Jane in Washington and Al Bartovics in Williamstown. The former Al is in George Washington Med. School, the latter in anthropology at Brown. Clayt will be married June 14 in the College chapel to Miss Donna Denelli of Williamstown. He expects to be "in and out of town" during the spring and summer.

John Couselis says he is "playing with cardboard" at Yale School of Architecture with Bill Gardner, Carl Weis and Bart Phelps. John expects to be in town this summer.

Paul Denver is studying German at Ohio State University and, he says, waiting for the draft.

Steve Essley says he is "taking an active role in cultural revolution at the University of Chicago — the university as a whole and sociology department specifically. For sitting-in I face suspension, loss of a $4000 fellowship and the draft in June." Steve hopes, however, to "organize in the Army."

He also noted that "Earl Potter left here for three and a half years in the Coast Guard."

Steve Gould is in biochemistry at B.U. He recently saw Pete Simkin, who is at Tufts Med. and Diana and Charlie Lambert, living in Arlington, and Ron Yee at Harvard Law.

Fred Hiller will be in Munich studying German until August.

Mark Jacox will get his masters from the Maxwell School in June.

Jeff Kroeber is at Washington University, "ostensibly in political science. Really, I'm living off a federal grant this year and learning all the things I bypassed while in my narrow degree-oriented track at college." He adds: "If any of our boys are at Fort Leonard Wood . . . tell them to reach me for grub and a date any weekend they want . . ." Jeff saw Mark Smith and Doug Tueting while

Stickney '68 Writes Life's Story of 'Alice'

John Stickney '68, Life magazine staffer, wrote the recent five-page story in that magazine on the movie "Alice's Restaurant" which is the story of an informal community that grew up around a remarkable couple and a deconsecrated Episcopal church in Southern Berkshire county.

The church is located in Williamsville, a tiny village just north of Great Barrington. Title of the movie is taken from the song by Arlo Guthrie about a restaurant in Stockbridge run by Alice Brock who, with her husband Ray, lived in the church.

Stickney, a former editor of The Williams Record, worked with Life photographer Steve Schapiro to capture the spirit of the movie and the members of the Southern Berkshire towns who play roles in the production. Director of the film is Arthur Penn, a Stockbridge resident. It is his first film since "Bonnie and Clyde."

in Boston in January. Both are at Harvard Divinity.

Chung-Yan Ling is in physics at Brown and ran into Bill Silver and John Champoli in New York. Bill is "working in a bank," and John is "teaching high school."

Then there's a large group teaching.

Steve Bradley is teaching high school music and studying music history at the University of Buffalo.

Dave Allen teaches English at Upper Kennebec Valley Memorial High School in Bingham, Me., and is "trying to get into the Army Reserves." He recently saw Kent Crickard, attending Rochester Med. School.

Scott Burnham is still teaching English in Tarrytown, N.Y., but plans to go on to Harvard for the MAT program next year.

John Champoli says he is "teaching at Benjamin Franklin High School in N.Y.C." He recently saw Scott Fields "getting stoned."

Lowell Davis is teaching and coaching at Grosse Pointe, Mich., and "will help run a summer camp here also." He met former roommate Tom Pierce in Detroit. "He was selling advertising to G.M.," Lowell writes.

Chris Dornin is teaching at Darrow School in Hoosac, N.Y., and coached the basketball team to a 9-6 record. Chris and wife Kathy live "only 30 minutes away from Williamstown so we go up a couple times a month," he writes.

Bill Drummond is "presently teaching in White Plains, N.Y., and getting mentally and physically prepared to face V. Lombardi and the rest of the Washington Redskins." Cruiser hopes for a deferment for his "surgical knee." He recently met "super J" Healy in a local inn and tossed down a few (?) inevitable bevos and pondered pensively the activities and fates of such notorious characters as: Rock, Bouncer, Wags, Dueser, El Gato '67 and others." Bill hopes to be in Williamstown this spring "to use a few delicate cruiser moves on the Williams-town links."

Bob Foster, teaching in Freyburg, Me., will be married in June to Jill Ekberg in Greenwich at the St. Bede's Chapel of Rosemary Hall. Jill is a Rosemary Hall grad and a Connecticut College junior.

Mike Hall is teaching sixth grade at New Britain, Conn., and will be in town June 22.

Henry Hecht is teaching seventh grade in the Baltimore public schools and is "waiting for six months active duty in the Army Reserves." He then hopes to go to Yale Law. Henry went skiing with Mark Donovan, Bill Gardner and Clint Wilkins over Christmas in Vermont.

Your secretary bumped into Andy Weiss at Laguardia in April. He's teaching first grade in Harlem and engrossing himself in Manhattan Reform Democratic politics. While driving me over to the West Side, he filled me in on the NYC mayoralty race. Brother John, it seems, is in deep trouble. All of which may mean that a fair-haired idealist cannot even survive in New York, let alone govern it.

The following report from med schools.

John Boyd is at Harvard. He saw Martin Brutus, who is now in the Teacher Corps in Trenton with wife Jenny.

Pete DeOreo is in Case-Reserve Med. School and "getting fat." "I've written Steve Mason," he says, "but he seems to be lost in Harvard Med. School. A-gar, how the hell are you?"

Fred Fox (ex-'68) writes from Harvard Med.

John Fulkerton says he's "still at Yale, enjoying marriage and learning that city life has some advantages, but not as many as country life."

John Herpel is still at Duke under an M.D.-Ph.D. program. He reports seeing "old members of the Nuclear Association over Christmas and New Year's in Williamstown and the Adirondacks" and that he'll "probably try to get up there during summer to see if Williams College still exists!"

Howie Kirshner, at Harvard, saw Jim Boynton in Philadelphia and John Fulkerson in Boston.

Mike Lavyne, at Cornell, got together recently with Mike Mustille, Bill Guenzel '69 and George (Bobo) Olson. Mike says he'll be "taking care of my new son (Andrew, born Feb. 20, 1969) with wife in N.H." this summer.

Bob Wall, now at South Carolina Medical College, is engaged to Susan Taylor (Skidmore '69) of Madrid.

Law students report as follows.

Paul Allison is enjoying Michigan "very much" and will "be at Indiantown Gap Military Reservation for another six weeks this summer for Army ROTC." He says Roger Crafts, now working for Owens-Corning Fiberglass, visited the campus recently.

Trav Auburn, still at Conn., will soon enter the Army Reserves. Trav saw Jon Weller at Columbia Business School in New York, and Harold (Topper) Holden, at the University of Hartford.

Tom Bell, at Wisconsin, met Bill Shapiro, Randy Dygert and Bob Bendick in Williamstown over semester break.

Bill Blanchard and Bart Jones are at Vanderbilt, and Bill expects to be back in Williamstown this summer.

Jim Boynton, at U.Penn., writes that he'll either enter the service or take ROTC next year if he cannot get a deferment.

Art Cambouris, at Columbia, recalls seeing Bob Herzog, teaching in the City, Pancho and Bob Heiss.

Bob Gault, at Michigan, recently spoke with Dave Todd, who's working for Associated Press in Madison, Wisc.

Bob Heiss, 1-Y and at Harvard, thinks he'll have "a sinecure on Capital Hill or in a federal agency" this summer.

Dick Hiersteiner, also at Harvard, saw Dave Sipress "being generally sychedelic," and Curt Waugh, who got married in February, and Larry Levien, also at Harvard, who will wed in December, if, Dick writes, "Jan approves."

Bob Klatell, at NYU Law, got engaged to Penny Manegan (Skidmore '68) in New York. He ran into Howie Steinberg at NYU Med. and Bruce Berman, who is at Columbia Business School and applying for Columbia law school admission in September.

Sherman Jones, at Harvard Business School, reports that his wife had a "five-pound, twelve-ounce girl, Kimberly Celeste, alias, K. C. Jones."

Charlie Carter is "getting ready to enter Presbyterian theological seminary at Berkeley, Princeton or Louisville and may go into the ministry or counselling." He met Carter Harrison at Christmas in Kansas City. Carter is in a Navy language program in Japanese at Monterey and intends to be in Japan soon.

Dick Heller writes: "Having become a (BU) grad school drop out, I am now on the crew and directing a few TV shows at WGBH, Channel 2, Boston."

Bob Graffagnino, in art history at Ohio State for the fall quarter, "got engaged Jan. 18, dropped out and started working . . . Fiancee is Sarah Kirgis, an old high school classmate of Charlie Deuser's from Dayton. Wedding probably in June. Army doesn't want me: 1-Y. Saw Little Johnny Kinabrew at Mardi Gras in New Orleans. He's leading the easy life, working for Papa. The Army informed him on his induction date that his classification should be 1-Y, not 1-A. So he's free too. Saw Charlie Deuser right after New Year's in Dayton — he's still in BU law school but sweating the draft."

John Kinabrew writes that he expects to be in Williamstown in August.

Bob Chambers is "still hard at work in I.B.M., considering business school this fall" and hopes to be in town this summer.

Bill Gustafson is working for Sears, Roebuck in New Orleans, but will join the Navy Reserve this summer and probably go to law school after. Bill saw Dave Marcello (now at Tulane Law School) over Christmas.

Steve Sease writes: "I've got a 1-Y for a bad back and am now . . . at George Washington . . . I'm rooming with John Lyons; John Coombe is a fellow student — we all manage to get drunk a good deal, about the only saving grace of law school . . . Miss Skidmore desperately. Despite all the foxes here they lack that certain something that made Skids great."

Jim Walsh joined the North Adams Transcript news staff in January.

Jim Lowenthal is teaching English for the Peace Corps in Niger.

Ed Cronin is in public health for the Peace Corps in Thailand.

Mat Lyon is in VISTA in Chicago.

Scott Anderson is working on a VISTA delinquency prevention project in Atlanta. He saw Kent Crickard at Kent's home in Park Ridge, Ill., over Christmas vacation.

Dirk Bennett is still at the United College in Hong Kong.

Your secretary is, happily, finished with OCS and now in Army public information in Vietnam. So, alas, I'll be able to make my first reunion not this year, but when I'm home in spring, 1970.

Message Center, Ice Machine In Alumni House

Want to locate a classmate, leave word where you've gone or tell a friend where the gang is gathering informally on reunion weekend?

A new message center near the front of Alumni House now gives you this opportunity. Two bulletin boards, flanking a chalk board, have been set up for the convenience of returning alumni and their wives, and you can write your message in chalk for all to see or thumb-tack a sealed note discreetly to the bulletin board.

For the benefit of alumni who drop in at Alumni House unexpectedly or on short notice, a continuous ice-making machine has been installed behind the bar for the normal, practical purpose. Formerly, ice had to be purchased and delivered to Alumni House in advance of all scheduled visits.

Williams Prints Are Available From Two Sources

The supply of prints of Dwight Shepler's attractive water color "Our Berkshire Valley" has at long last been exhausted, and the cost of producing another run, originally underwritten by the late Ralph Perkins '09, makes the project appear prohibitive.

Other prints of the campus are available, however.

Hingham Originals, 197 Main Street, Hingham, Mass., offers a 16" x 28" color print of the campus looking west along Main Street, about 1906, framed or unframed.

The College Watercolor Group, P.O. Box 56, Skillman, N.J., 08558 offers a set of four 11" x 14", individually rendered watercolors, including West College, the Thompson Memorial Chapel, Griffin Hall and Main Street, matted and ready for framing.

in the MBA program. He and Melissa have one child, Andrew Thomas, who is now 18 months old.

Peter Erwin is studying for a Master's in public administration at S.U.N.Y. in Albany, N.Y.

Having earned his M.A. and M.A.L.D. degrees from the Fletcher School, Don Ross is in Chile gathering data for his Ph.D. dissertation.

Chuck Metcalf and his wife Loretta are in Madison, Wisc., where Chuck is an assistant professor of economics at the University of Wisconsin. He is also working for the Institute for Research on Poverty.

Mike Annison is the executive assistant to the superintendent of schools in Cleveland, Ohio.

Jim Orenberg plans to obtain his Ph.D. in chemistry this summer, at which time he and his wife Elaine will be going west to Stanford, where Jim has accepted a two-year, post-doctoral position with a fellow researcher at the Stanford Medical School.

Chris Stackpole received his Ph.D. in biology from Tulane University in June. He has accepted an offer to do post-doctoral research at Sloan-Kettering Institute of Cancer Research in New York City starting in July.

Entrepreneur Nick Rawlings is a founder and member of the senior technical staff of Computer Software Systems Inc. of Stamford, Conn. The company sells time-sharing services on a 360/67 IBM system that it leases.

Alex Pollock received his M.P.A. in international relations from the Woodrow Wilson School at Princeton and plans to join the International Department of the Continental Illinois Bank of Chicago in August.

Peter Richtmyer was released from the Navy in February and is now a computer programmer for Travelers Insurance Co. in Hartford, Conn. His new address is 108 McKee St., Apt. B, Hartford.

Bob Ochler is the manager of the Sundries Department, Port Area Branch of First National City Bank, Manila, P.I. Bob received his M.S. in public administration from the Maxwell School at Syracuse University.

I am still tendering invitations to anyone who is visiting the Washington area. I have been fortunate enough to work on some large securities industry matters such as the Amerada-Hess Oil merger and the Rapid American-Glen Alden exchange offer which have kept me fully occupied. Keep those cards coming in and thank you for the response so far.

Editor's Notes:

Steven R. Goldring has received his medical degree from Washington University School of Medicine and is interning at the Michael Reese Hospital, Chicago.

Michael T. Piel has received his Doctor of Medicine degree from University of Colorado Medical Center and will intern at the U.S. Naval Hospital in Bethesda, Md.

Williams A. Roberts has received the Doctor of Medicine degree from the University of Colorado Medical Center and will intern in ophthalmology at San Francisco General Hospital in California.

President, John C. Prendergast, Jr.; Acting Secretary, Robert W. Shuford, 35 Park St., Williamstown, Mass. 01267; Agent, John E. Hufnagel

Acting-Secretary Shuford reports:

Again, the time for alumni notes seems to roll around faster than I can get the cards out to gather news, so this set of notes will be shorter than the last, and mere hearsay.

Bill Sander received orders in April for Vietnam in July. He started language school and survival training in May at Coronado, Calif. While in Vietnam, will be assigned as a watch officer with a Coastal Surveillance Center.

On April 15, Jon Lovell wrote me as follows: "Margaretta and I have just returned from a two week job hunting trip to the U.S., looking for teaching posts (English) at various secondary schools. I'll be teaching at Tower Hill in Wilmington next year with a Williams graduate as Headmaster and another as head of the English department! We've had a great time in England and will be very sad to leave this July, but I've been quite excited by what I've seen and heard on t'other side of the Atlantic, and am anxious to return this summer. Incidentally, we've managed to persuade Bill Clendaniel to return with us on the new Queen Elizabeth II, so we may all be paddling ourselves home come July."

Dave Rikert, who will be returning to the U.S. from Oxford Aug. 15, reports: "The Pembroke College soccer team (of which I was secretary) reached the semifinals of the Oxford 'Cuppers' competition." Dave plans to enter Navy OCS when he returns.

From Les Loomis: "I'm here in Colombia with the Peace Corps meeting Colombians and myself. People live in the city and among the coffee hills struggling to be happy and to be good. The place is telling me something. Dylan's really got the idea, huh?"

Tom Phelan will be joining us in the admissions office this summer from July 1 to Labor Day, helping out with the interviewing. Then back to New York P.S. 62.

It may grieve some and delight others of you to know that this year the D.U. lawn party was replaced by an all-college lawn party on the soph quad. The party would have been smashing, but it rained. It may again grieve some and delight others to know that the Gurgle tapping ceremony remained public this year.

Presently at Fort Holabird (Baltimore) as interrogation instructor, Gill Hendrick plans to continue working for the Army this summer (he gets out in December), and "to get an air conditioner."

Since graduation Clarence Wilson has attended the U. of Chicago School of Business and the Northwestern U. School of Law. He has just been assigned Third Secretary, Vice-Consul, American Embassy, Caracas, Venezuela.

My colleague Phil Wick '56 recently heard from Lenny Goldberg by phone from the West Coast, concerning the candidacy of a student out there. Lenny is working now for American Friends Service Committee in the Berkeley area for his 1-O Alternate Service, taking some courses at the University on the side.

Joe Cannon spent this year teaching English at Troy (N.Y.) High School while his wife, Alice, finished her senior year at Bennington. They will be spending a leisurely summer at Rehoboth Beach, Del., before he takes a job next year in the Baltimore area, teaching English for an educational TV station.

It was good to see some classmates up for spring weekend. Attending an understandably subdued Sunday afternoon Bloody Mary get-together at the Wardmans (George and Anita, '69) were Doug Ernst, Bill Taylor, Hal Crowther '66, Bill Drumond '68, and others.

Allan Stern has extended for a third year with the Peace Corps, Sierra Leone. He will take a staff position with the Associate Director of the Education program in the country. John Jacobs '66 held the position this year which Allan is moving into, and Jim Claypool '69 will be coming over with the new group this June. "So," says Al, "if we can get another Williams guy to take over from me next year, we can retire with the trophy." Al's new address will be, Peace Corps Office, c/o American Embassy, Freetown, Sierra Leone, West Africa.

The first to complete his military service in the class is Rick Yeiser, who recently finished up at Ft. Benning, Columbus, Ga. Rick will be in the New York area for the summer. Incidentally, his younger sister, Poppy, will be at Williams for a semester next year as part of the Eleven College Exchange.

Yours truly is enjoying admissions work at Williams, and plans to stay on for another year before returning to grad school and self-discipline.

President, Thomas C. Demakis; Secretary, Robert H. Gillmore, 2 Perrotto Ave., Claremont, N. H. 03743; Agent, Charles E. Potts, II

Secretary Gillmore reports:

From returned postcards it appears that virtually every classmate approved the College's handling of the spring's Afro-American Society sit-in. Typical comments were "with style," "maturely," "rationally" and "better than Harvard!"

It also appears a large portion of '68 is in the service, many in the Navy.

Newly-commissioned Ensign Curt Tyler writes from Pearl Harbor: "Have been here, there and everywhere since graduation. Spent two weeks in San Juan, then went to old home Hawaii for one and one-half months, where I saw Tom Stevens with very short hair, then went back to PR for a couple of days of R&R (that, for all you civilians, is military talk for "rest and recuperation" — Secretary) and sailing before the eventful four months at Newport and Navy OCS.

"Saw millions of the gang there — Bill Calfee, John Davis, Ed Rea, Phil Recht, Jim Roe, Pete Sartorius, Dwight Schenck, Russ Shefrin, Neil O'Donnell '67 (he was my roommate and assistant battalion commander) and Ken Wilcox '67 (he was one of my assistant company commanders) — just to name a few. It was like old home week here.

"Anyway, after getting commissioned Dec. 20, I went home to PR for three weeks then reported to my ship (Hydrographic Survey) USS Maury here . . .

"At the moment I'm passing the week at the District Legal Office here waiting to fly to Japan to meet my ship. Missed her departure due to the fact that I've been hospitalized for eight weeks after cutting my foot surfing, of all things."

John Davis writes that he should now be an officer on the USS Wichita, Long Beach, Calif.

Ensign Dick Dickerson is in Navy Supply School, Athens, Ga. He saw Joe Adelson and Gwynn Radeker '67 studying at the University of North Carolina, Ensign Hugh Scott and wife Susan, also at the Supply School, and Prof. Lane Faison lecturing on Matisse at nearby University of Georgia.

John Graves is a "junior officer in the communications department aboard the nuclear cruiser Long Beach, which will deploy for six months off Vietnam. After three years abroad, expect to go to Amos Tuck B. School.

Bob Lux and Kent Van Allen are also at the Supply School.

Ned Perry is aboard the 6th Fleet flag ship, USS Little Rock. "After finishing OCS I went to Communications School with Jim Roe and Pete Sartorius for a month and then reported aboard this ship in March. Jim and I returned to Williamstown for the alumni hockey game, but didn't help much, as we were soundly beaten."

Tom Pierce was in the land of boony marks, gross lint and demerits — Navy OCS" but graduated in May. He saw Ensign Pete Naylor returning to Newport for Justice School. Tom was in Williamstown for a recent "Julian Bond speech, to study the Afro-American situation and to show off a new Fiat spider 850."

Ed Rea "deployed" to "WESTPAC" in May.

Phil Recht graduated from submarine school May 29 and should now be on the submarine USS Corporal, based in New London, Conn. Phil saw Al Mosher, also at sub school, Scott Wylie "on way to Army OCS" and Earl Potter on a "Coast Guard liberty." Phil also married Donna Ratchford of Pittsburgh in May.

Russ Shefrin is "now a Navy ensign and . . . enjoying the service much more than I had anticipated."

Jeff Petty was "on my way to Pensacola, Fla., to join the Naval Air Corps." He was in Williamstown for Parents' Weekend.

Henry Hecht finished teaching in June and should now be in Army Reserve training.

Ken Jackson is "still in the Army, now in Illesheim, Germany." He saw Denny Kelly in NYC and stopped in Williamstown in mid-March before leaving the States.

Mrs. Charles H. Lambert writes: "Charlie left April 17 for six months active duty in Army Reserves," including basic training in Fort Polk, La. Steve Gould, Pete Simkin and Ron Yee appeared at a party the weekend before he left.

Mal Grant's Navy Sea Bee battalion is now in Vietnam. "I'm working with our chaplain in the Civic Action Program. We help Vietnamese civilians build schools, etc." (I'm still trying to track Mal down — Secretary)

Tom Stevens wrote from Navy boot camp in San Diego: "Jim Thompson is in Army — refused combat status. They don't know what to do with him. . . . We wash our clothes all day here — incredibly dull. . . . Am engaged to Bobbye Sutton, to be wed one of these years. Aloha."

Ned Williams was "in the process of getting out of the Navy for sleep-walking. After eight months as an enlisted man, it's an unexpected blessing," he says. Ned saw Lowell Davis "vacationing in Fort Lauderdale. Spent the night in the back seat of his rented car. He's got a classic set-up teaching in Grosse Pointe, Mich. He's still keeping his vows of celibacy."

From grad schools, a trickle of cards. Glenn C. Everhart writes that he should have an MS in physics from Penn by now. This summer he's "at Penn-Princeton Accelerator working for a professor. I'm still 1-Y for the draft — though how long that'll last, I don't know. However, so long as I am, I shall in the few moments not devoted to study continue to raise the banner of reaction."

John Angle, still at Columbia, recently visited Glenn. This summer he is a research assistant in the Bureau of Social Science Research, Washington.

Charlie Carter sent a long note: "I regret I was unable to return to the Purple Valley to finish up my senior year, but because of a prolonged case of infectious mono and unanticipated financial burdens, it was more practical to me to remain here under the 'protective' eye of a physician. So my courses have been a bit less exciting than at Williams."

"Next fall," Charlie writes, "I shall begin studies either at Berkeley in history or at Princeton Theological Seminary."

"As plans stand now, I'll begin seminary at Princeton, with the hope of eventually being a chaplain and history teacher at a private boy's school in the East."

"As a seminarian, as you well know, my military status will be 4-D, along with felons and mental deviants (but I suppose some seminarians are rather marginal anyway).

"My summer involved working for a fourth time as a tour escort for a travel agency, conducting tours in western Canada and California."

"I've had many bizarre experiences, including having to deliver a baby to a protruding French gal on the northern tip of the Gaspé Peninsula two summers ago — a frightening thing."

Paul Neely, still at Columbia, plans to marry Louisville's Ann Crosby (Vassar '68) on Aug. 30.

David Schulte wrote from Britain: "Things at Oxford are going quite nicely, now that the appalling winter is behind us. Nancy and I took advantage of the six-week spring vacation to drive through Scandinavia, Bavaria, a little of France and some of Holland. It was both enjoyable and, at times, extremely thought-provoking."

Bill Smith, at Harvard Divinity School, says he has "dinner together every couple of weeks" with Steve Fisher, and hears regularly from Peace Corpsman Ross Anthony in Nepal and Dave Redman, who "just spent one of his 'vacs' from Oxford in Italy." Bill visited friends in Williamstown in late April and "came back to Cambridge with a sun-tan."

In Med schools: Pete DeOreo, with Tony Gustafson at Case Western Reserve Med School, plans to marry Lin Huettnier, Aug. 23, in Cleveland. "Lin has her master's degree in library science and will work in the Business Library of the Cleveland Public Library," Pete reports.

Fred Fox (ex-'68) is at Harvard Med with Howie Kirshner and Steve Mason. Howie saw Pete Simkin in the Tufts Medical Library and Jim Boynton, now at Penn Law. He is also "becoming matrimonially enfranchised" (July 27) to Miss Carol Adams of Philadelphia.

Steve Mason saw Mike Wasserman (in math at MIT) "on the steps of Memorial Church during aftermath of Harvard Revolution."

Cornell Med student Mike Lavyne became a father in February.

Also at Cornell Med are Jon Mardirosian and Mike Mustille.

Dave Snyderman is "still grinding away" at Penn Med School. "Would you believe 22 straight weeks without a vacation?" Dave did see Tom (Pancho) Demakis in Philly but has not "had time" to get up to Williamstown — even though he misses Taconic Golf Course and the beauty of spring."

Bob Stanton is "still at Columbia Med — no end in sight. Playing rugby for Old Blues Rugby Club to stay in shape. He saw Denny Kelly, who is also playing Rugby, Scott Wylie, working for Banker's Trust before joining the Army, and Phil Recht. Bob said he planned to be in Williamstown in May to play rugby and visit friends."

Bob Wall married Susan Taylor (Skidmore '69) in June and adds: "Curt Waugh . . . in the wedding. I am still in med school. Cake."

Austin Wand is at the University of Cincinnati with Tom Carothers and Gordie Juan.

In law schools: Tom Bell "was in Williamstown over spring break, checking up on Randy Dygert at Mt. Hermon and making sure Watson, Petke, Bangser and Groban and Co. still have things under control at Gladden House."

Bill Blanchard, at Vanderbilt, "will be travelling for two and one-half months in Europe with wife Joanne."

Art Cambouris, still at Columbia, is working for Mobil Oil in London this summer. He reported seeing ex-roommate Bob Cricenti, who was "calling U. Mass for three hours." Artie also reported stopping in Williamstown this spring: "If I liked the place I was going to buy it."

Bob Gault, at Michigan with Paul Allison, is working for a Pittsburgh firm this summer.

Bob Heiss at Harvard, reported seeing Art Cambouris in NYC, "avoiding SDS brickbats, I guess, in order to attend Columbia Law" and Ned Perry at a Boston Ripon Society dinner.

Frank Reed, also at Columbia with a 1-Y deferment, reports that Al Swan just finished his Army Reserve active duty and "is going into the real estate business in the City until he reenters NYU Law next fall." Frank came up to Williamstown this spring "to get out of New York for a change." There he saw Clark Hulse '69, who is the proud owner of a Vassar girl."

E. J. Strassburger finished his Army

Reserve active duty (artillery training at Ft. Sill, Okla.) and will return to Pittsburgh Law School this fall.

In business schools: Jim Halloran, at Boston University, plans to marry Miss Leslie Inkley this month. He reports seeing Garrett (Thorny) Thornburg who is "supposedly going to Harvard B. School, but he's more interested in Harvard sit-ins" and "raising hell all over town."

Jeff Stiefler, also at Harvard, reports indulging in "full-time draft dodging," working this summer "as assistant to the president of Faultless Starch Co., Kansas City, Mo. (TWA stewardess training center), and that Randy Dygert and Tom Bell played rugby for the business school in April. Dygert had the crowd going wild." Jeff was in Williamstown this spring for "experimentation on the full ramifications of no parietals."

Jon Weller, at Columbia with Bruce Berman and Paul Neely, "managed to flunk" his Army physical, "but only on the second time around."

And teaching: Steve Bradley, 2-A, teaching high school music theory and vocal music, was in Williamstown recently "on my way to see Howie Klee and Gordie Allen, both '67."

Joel Morse, still at Windsor Mt. School, says his brother saw Robin Norris at Sarah Lawrence.

Pete Rice, 1-Y, still at nearby Lenox School, says wife Peggy is expecting this month, and that he saw John Odden, now in the Army, Pete Sartorius and Bill Calfee, also a Navy officer.

Rick Rhodes and Jerry Seidenwurm are still at Albuquerque Academy. Jerry is "half way through an M.A. in sociology at the University of New Mexico."

Denny Kelly sent a long letter. He was a graduate assistant football coach at Columbia with Frank Navarro, has been teaching phys. ed. at the progressive Dalton School and was a marketing trainee for J. P. Stevens & Co. in New York. "Yep, that's the fabric industry, Gilsy. I even spent a week in Philly at the School of Textiles and Sciences for some technical instruction. It was a great job since it gave me great exposure to selling (marketing as they call it in more sophisticated circles). But I must say I was pretty much turned off by the dirty old men of the garment district — not bad looking models, though."

"Have seen many guys in New York and a lot of Bill Drummond and Ed Weeks (at Columbia P&S). Played golf with Drummond . . . I confess that the Cruiser is now swinging that little club with a much softer touch than was in evidence on the Taconic last spring. . . ."

"Doug Doan, alias Deputy Dog, showed up . . . and we hit the East Side pubs. Doug had a good time but would have preferred to have been back in Buffalo (at school) where his black book has grown to considerable size."

"Ken Jackson stopped in on his way to Germany via the Army — he is a machine repairman."

"Bumped into John Oppenheimer one morning . . . and later met him at alumni weekend at Williams and gave him a ride back to the city. He's still waiting a decision by the service."

"On that same weekend I hit the slopes with Jay Healy and had a very good night with traditional refreshments."

Ed Cronin is with the Peace Corps in Thailand; Doug Jones, in El Salvador.

Jim Harrod, "making a valiant attempt to forget four years of 'un-education,' spent last summer in Cambridge's 'hip' oblivion" and is now "with Community Action, Augusta, Me., and writing poetry."

Mark Jacox began a "permanent" job with the Atomic Energy Commission in July.

Stu Philipp is with special projects, Chancellor's Office, Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, Ill. He reported seeing Tom Stevens (before he went into the Navy) at nearby Crab Orchard Job Corps Center.

Tad Piper writes: "Working for a business development and marketing firm in Minneapolis. New daughter Gretchen born Jan. 4." Tad recently ran into Rick Moore and Dodger Newhall, both at Minnesota Law School, and Dobby West "on leave from the Navy to announce his engagement to Jane Haugen." They were to have been married in July.

John Kinabrew, still working in New Orleans, saw Jim Thompson on a leave from nearby Ft. Polk. "Harmon" was supposed to be in Massachusetts this month.

John Long is performing alternate service in juvenile rehabilitation in Washington State.

Chris Owens, with the D.C. Welfare Dept., saw Jack Shindler in France.

Dave Marcello is "working for Louisiana's only black state legislator" this summer.

Jon Mardirossian "saw Bill Smith and Steve Fisher on a recent trip to Cambridge and Boston" and Rus Shefrin — up from Philadelphia on a weekend Navy pass — on the Broadway subway."

Your secretary is happily through with Army OCS and now in public information in Northern I Corps, Vietnam. My office is in Phu Bai, XXIV Corps Headquarters, about seven miles south of Hue. It's generally quiet, but very hot, and the work is endless. I enjoy the reporting very much (I'm fast filling a notebook!), and I am surprised by the relative peace in much of the coastal and urban areas and that the seacoast and mountains here are as beautiful as a Pacific island.

Bill Blanchard also reported that Tom Chapman is with the Marines in Da Nang and "narrowly escaped a Vietcong sneak attack in February — one of two to stay alive in his 'hootch.' The next time I fly down to DaNang I'll try to find him. And I'll report more later."

Fall 1969

President, Thomas C. Demakis; Secretary, Robert H. Gilmore, 2 Perrotto Ave., Claremont, N.H. 03743; Agent, Charles E. Potts, II

Secretary Gilmore reports:

A long letter from Clint Wilkins:

"I just spent a most interesting summer — six weeks at Princeton doing some graduate work in education. This was a summer program sponsored by the government for preparing inexperienced teachers for the initial year. Most beneficial as I am teaching history at Princeton Day School this fall. (I am also coaching junior hockey and varsity lacrosse, among other things.)

"Spent the month of August at the Northwest Outward Bound School in Oregon, and backpacking and climbing with Tom Ray in Washington's North Cascade Range. I return to civilization with mixed emotions!

"On the way back East stopped off in Minneapolis-St. Paul just in time for Jim Roe's 'improvised' wedding to Chris Stephens. He had the date changed several times by the Navy — and eventually had to settle for Sunday, Aug. 31.

"I stayed at Wiezer and Tad Piper's. Their little girl Gretchen is really tough! (Dobby West is her godfather, Tad reports.) Tad (who flunked his induction physical) may leave for Stanford Business School this fall — if all goes right.

"They will join Barbara and Bob Scott, who are at Stanford now. In any event, they have a nice house in Excelsior and will stay for awhile before going to San Francisco.

"Saw Rick Moore, who is being scouted by Warren Burger for the Supreme Court. Rick apparently really did well at law school (U. Minn.). He is having his studies interrupted by the Army (Reserve), but hopes to be back for the spring semester.

"Also at Jim's wedding were Robin Norris and the Roe brothers, among others. Saw Dick Stout '69 and Charlie Gordon there also.

"Speaking of weddings: I was in Portland June 14 for Tod Hamachek's hitch-ment to Barb Callister. Was joined by Clark McFadden and Tom Ray. Also saw James (Jock) Kimberley '66 who was preparing for Oregon law boards.

"The next weekend I was in Tom Carother's wedding to Annette Tolbert in Morristown, N.J. Ushers from Williams were Bill Gardner, Mark (Buns) Donovan, Tad Piper and I. We were handsomely decked out in "Toad Special" ties. Toad and Poopsie went off to Europe for the summer. Surprise guest was the ubiquitous Rick Yeiser '67, just out of the Army.

"Immediately following the ceremony Buns Donovan and Bill Gardner headed west in Bun's new convertible. Bill worked in Aspen with Carl Wies for an architect. Buns had to get to Portland the next weekend for Red Ragsdale's wedding to Prudence Kimberly. Apparently he made it to the coast in about two days with a stop in Denver! Ted and Prudence went off to Canada for their honeymoon, before attending Colorado Outward Bound for one day! (Apparently they wanted to put them in separate courses.) Buns Donovan joined "rancher-lawyer" Norman (Dodger) Newhall for some harvesting in Montana during August. Haven't heard from either recently, though — should have been an experience.

"During the past year I saw Martha and Rod Dimock often in New York. Rod is now in the Navy at Newport and will go to supply school this fall.

"I stayed at Denny Kelly's a few nights while homeless in New York. Gates Hawn '69 apparently spent the summer there. Kel is going to Columbia Law this fall and is rooming with Jeff Palmer and Bob Holdridge '67, among others.

"Joined Charlie Potts for lunch now and then at the Williams Club and for dinner a couple of times at their place in Rye, for some of Jan's good cooking.

"Went to a Yankee game with Scott Miller, Bob Lord and Roger Wolmuth, all working in New York. Thank God New York has the Mets! It's tough to be a Yankee fan these days, no matter how die-hard.

"Went back to Winter Carnival and Spring Weekend. Saw Bill Drummond and John Olden there. Ran into Doug Ernst '67 at the Princeton Student Center this summer. Had lunch with John Schmidt. John, Joyce and their two children are moving out to Summit, if I'm not mistaken.

"Ran into Earl Potter at the Williams Club this spring. Saw Henry Hecht in Baltimore this summer. Henry is still waiting for active duty and hopes to have it out of the way this year so he can go to law school. Last I heard he was off to Europe for a few weeks this summer.

"I got a letter from Dobby West. He is in San Francisco with the Navy and was married July 2 to Janie Haugen in Minneapolis with Tod Piper present. Apparently Dobby is 'Navigator'!

"We had a little get together on Cape Cod this spring with Martha and Rod Dimock, Mark Donovan, Toad and Poopsie (Carothers), Jim Roe and Chris and Tom Ervin and Liz McKinley. We devoured a two-pound lobster in no time at all.

"Saw Mark Sullivan in a bar at Saratoga Springs this spring (must we presume alone?!). Saw Pete Miller around Cambridge as well as Dick Means and Charlie Deuser.

"I'm excited about teaching and hope to do a little work for Williams in spare time," Clint concludes.

Also teaching is Mike Morfit who will spend another year at Hong Kong International School. Jim Barnes is teaching in the Baltimore ghetto with a number of '69-ers and ex-Spencer House men.

Also teaching — and coaching — (second year, Virginia Episcopal School, Lynchburg) is Don McGill. His wife Linda attends nearby Randolph-Macon College for Women.

Don has been writing to Ken Jackson, in the Army in Germany, and to Peg and Pete Rice, at Woodberry Forest School, Orange, Va. Pete saw Pete Sartorius at Dick Eide's ('69) wedding and John Schmidt and family. He spent the summer preparing fall courses and "training retrievers."

Rick Rhodes and Jerry Seidenwurm are still teaching at Albuquerque Academy. Jerry worked on a sociology MA at the University of New Mexico and taught this summer. He and his wife adopted "3½-week-old Julie Ann on July 7 . . ."

Bruce Simon is still teaching at Jackson, Wyo., where he saw Tom Rac skiing with friends.

Dave Williams is teaching U.S. history at Leominster (Mass.) High School. He said he planned "to attend Mark Pearlman's wedding on Aug. 24 in Worcester. . . ." He "relaxed and traveled with wife Jane" this summer, "mostly in New England — visited Williams in July — it was rather deserted."

From med students:

John Fulkerson (still at Yale, I gather) writes that he is "playing a lot of tennis — will beat Simon next time I see him." John did see "Howard Kirshner (Harvard Med School) in Boston, where he was preparing courageously for marriage (July)."

Ted McMahon writes from Duke: "Your readers may be interested to know that moving to the South is an incomparable experience that all should try — preferably for 24 hours or less. The Medical Center itself is excellent. The other members of the Williams contingent, Bros. Mark Pearlman, James Love and John Herpel are thriving. Must report that Bro. Howard Kirshner lost his $5 bet — his wedding was July 27, 1969, not 1971, to Miss Carol Adams of Philadelphia.

"I worked for the Public Health Service at Baltimore City Hospital this summer — fast surgery at nominal cost to all members of '68!"

Duke-man John Herpel researched the artificial heart at U.Penn. this summer and reports that "Jim Love is going crazy down here — just as he did at Williams."

Albie Miller, Mark Donovan and Dick McGinn were all "anxiously awaiting our 'de-briefing' otherwise known as exams, before they let us out for the summer. . . ."

Mike Mustille is "looking forward to his second year at Cornell . . . 'I've seen a lot of Michael Lavigne and his wife and son, who are all here. In May, Ben Harvey visited me in New York. Though he didn't graduate he was known by many in '68. He is in med school at Vanderbilt. For play and work, my wife Carole had a baby boy Anthony Nicholas on June 20."

Dave Snyderman, still at Penn, saw Pancho (Tom Demakis) who is now back at Columbia Law in Boston. They played golf and saw Pancho's Red Sox. Dave worked for a pharmaceutical company this summer.

Bob Stanton, at Columbia, says he took a "trip around U.S. culminated by work on a 6,000 acre ranch near Jackson Hole, Wyo. Feel like a real cowboy now. Saw Tom Bell in Madison, Wisc. Bob reports that Tom at Wisconsin Law, took summer law courses and is on the law review.

Howie Steinberg, at NYU, saw Rob Klatell, who was "busy getting engaged," and this summer was "involved in research and planning for a comprehensive health care center on the Lower East Side."

Bill (Rock) Untereker married Suzie Kelly (Smith '68 — "how fashionable!") and has joined ex-roommate (Fast) Eddie Weeks at Columbia. Fast helped Rock and Suzie "move into our 5th floor walk-up." The Unterekers occasionally saw John Stickney, who, like Suzie, works for Life and only communicates with his by-line.

Fellow Gurgle Bob Wall, at Charleston College, married Susan Taylor (Skids '69) on June 7, in Concord, Mass. Present: Charlie Deuser, Tom Ervin, Dick Hierstiener, Denny Kelly, Pat O'Grady, Howie Steinberg, Curt Waugh and Ed Weeks. Bob performed obstetrical anesthesia in a private Charleston hospital this summer.

Mike Yogman, at Yale, drove cross country this summer, visited friends at a Mississippi health care center and a New Mexico Navaho reservation. He is now working for Mayor John Lindsay. Mike was at Jill and Bob Foster's wedding with Cathy and Chris Dornin, Dick Forman, Jeff Palmer, Bill Roesing, George Schelling and Mark Sullivan. He was also at Carol and Howie Kirshner's with Jim Boynton, Burt Cohen (now movie-making in New York), Lynn and John Fulkerson, Ted McMahon and Austin Wand.

Of the law students, this from Al Swan: "I'll start out with last September when I began at NYU Law School — which was quickly interrupted by Uncle Sam when I had to serve my five months of active duty for the Army Reserves. On Nov. 26 I reported to Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., where I stayed until April 12, with the exception of two weeks' leave at Christmas time, and am now working for a real estate company in New York City." Al returned to NYU this fall.

Al ran into Joe Adelson and Dick Dickerson when in New York on Christmas leave. "On a more regular basis, both before and after the Army, I have seen Scott Miller, Rog Wolmuth and Rob Lord. Scott is still teaching and Rob is still with Manufacturers Hanover Trust Co. We all continue to manage a few beevos now and then."

John Coombe is "hoping to hang on to" his 1-Y deferment and remain at George Washington with Steve Sease and John Lyon.

Rick Moore had to leave Minnesota Law to do four months Reserve active duty at Fort Ord, Calif.

In business schools: Paul Neely in Columbia business-journalism, married Ann Crosby (Vassar) July 19 in New York.

Tom Nicholson, worked on his MBA

thesis this summer and married Catherine Fuller July 9. Present: Trav Auburn, Bart Jones, Ed Nichols, Dave Pingree, John Schmitz and Jon Weller.

Garrett Thornburg, at Harvard, was a marketing consultant for a Melbourne firm this summer and traveled to Hong Kong, Tokyo, Moscow and Munich.

Pres Moore sent a long and informative note:

"Having left Williams in the spring of '66, tentative diagnosis of repeated seizures experienced at school and during the summer proved inconclusive, so I participated in my father's campaign for governor. In November, I was shipped to Mayo Clinic for more extensive diagnosis, which discovered a brain tumor, supposedly from a football injury, but more likely from the time I fell down the stairs at the TDX house at Amherst. X-Ray treatment during the next 6 months shrank the tumor and cured (?) it.

"Since then, I have graduated from Oklahoma University ('69), after marrying Pegi Wheatley, from Denver, on Nov. 2, 1968. I am now 'buying' media, mostly radio and TV, for Commonwealth Theatres — a chain of 200 movie houses in 80 markets.

"Saw Carter Harrison as he passed through town to his folk's summer retreat for a two-week break from learning Japanese at the Naval base in San Diego. He hopes, upon completion of the program around Christmas to go to Japan, where also lies Bill Garth, TDX fraternity brother, also Navy."

David Redman, still at Oxford, traveled through Italy and Switzerland this summer. John Reznick is a tax accountant at Bankers Trust Co. (with Rod Dimock and Scott Wylie) and doing grad work at CCNY. Jeff Rothenberg is working for a computer sciences Ph.D. at Wisconsin, where his wife is also studying. Joe Adelson is now at Berkeley. He saw Steve Bradley, in East Aurora, N.Y., teaching high school music and "snowing his high school honeys."

David Schulte left Oxford last May, worked this summer in urban affairs at the Ford Foundation and is now at Yale Law. Wife Nancy was "slogging through geology and other pleasurable requirements at NYU summer school" and will be finishing her BA there soon.

Bill Smith is still at Harvard Divinity. He sold socks "from Oklahoma to Minnesota" this summer.

Scott Fields is at Columbia in arts and "at work on a novel entitled Seaboard." He and John DeMarco "spend our time flying kites in the Hudson River." Scott was in Williamstown this summer "to breathe clean air; to visit a number of trees."

Chris Owens is a Washington, D.C., welfare department case worker.

Ross Anthony is still a Peace Corps agricultural extension agent in Nepal.

Also in the Peace Corps, Scott McCulloch is "teaching teachers to teach the new math" in the Philippines. This summer Scott taught a classical literature course at St. Mary's College, Provine.

Spencer Beebe is working with a Peace Corps fisheries project on Honduras' Caribbean coast.

Tony Suh, in VISTA in Cincinnati, is organizing welfare recipients and working with the Model Cities program.

John Murray, with the Peace Corps, writes:

"The weekend I left New York I saw Peter Miller and John Stickney. Peter still at Harvard and John at Life Magazine. I talked for some time to Schulte by phone when he was back in the States at Christmas, and I have received one letter from him since then. He never has mentioned just what it is that he has been doing in England for the past year.

"I am living fairly comfortably if a little too warmly in Tiruchirappalli. I get a chance to travel all around South India viewing co-op societies and my job is a beautiful one to have with all these development economics courses still fairly fresh."

Dick Foreman and Bill Roesing, I believe, are still reporting for the Providence Journal. Dave Todd is reporting for the Associated Press Madison Bureau, covering Wisconsin's legislature, and seeing Tom Bell occasionally.

Dave Marcello, now on Tulane's Law Review, was with the Law Students Civil Rights Research Council this summer and is still working for State Rep. Ernest Ernest Morial, "Louisiana's only black state legislator." Dave says he's going to "help him get elected councilman-at-large." Dave adds that he still thinks we need a new movement, not "new politicians."

And from those in the service:

Larry Pileher said he worked in a factory in Rye, N.Y., after graduation, then took a car trip to California before he was drafted. He did basic training at Ft. Dix, N.J., and infantry training at Ft. Polk, La.

"I applied for OCS after graduation," Larry wrote. "But I was drafted before I would be given a class date." Larry was in OCS at Fort Benning when he wrote. "Benning has been drudgery," he said, "but it's worth it . . . I don't feel totally out of place here despite my political views." He was commissioned in October and will be in Vietnam early next year. Larry still plans on law school.

Bill Pete should have been commissioned in September. I met Bill at Benning just before he started the 23-week course.

His brother Mike (another Benning graduate) was made captain in October and is finishing language school in Arlington, Va. (where he is "learning why the Chinese have a communication problem"). He should be in Okinawa in December after "40 months in infantry stateside."

In the Pentagon Mike saw Hal Markkik, "programming computers" and Marine Mike Burroughs '67 "orienting the Corps to his thing."

Scott Wylie finished engineering training and reports to Benning for OCS in October. "Can't say that I've seen many college grads, much less Williams grads, during my last 14 weeks of training," Scott writes. "Maybe OCS will be better."

Trav Auburn, who just finished one year at Conn Law and worked this summer for Connecticut Bank and Trust, is now serving his Army Reserve active duty. Trav was in Williamstown "for some tennis last May." He and Jon Weller "played in a member-guest tournament at Jon's club over Memorial Day."

Tom Beach reports he is "still with Uncle Sam." He was married March 29 to Pam Hamilton, Vassar '68 (which, quite neatly, now makes her name "Hamilton-Beach"). Jon Weller was Tom's best man. Jay Healy and Randy Dygert were also there.

Kevin Dougherty is with the Army at Camp Vayama, Sattahip, Thailand. After two more years he will be in business school — either NYU or Columbia. Kev saw John Rahill in Boston while on leave. John is working for the Cambridge Redevelopment Authority.

John Odden's mother reports that John is in the Army in Germany.

And John Oppenheimer's mother says that Op is in an Army reserve medical unit at Fort Jackson, S.C., and that he was best man in Paul Neely's wedding. Bruce Thall and Rich Pollett '69 were there also.

Bill Shapiro was to return to U.Va. Law in September "if the Army is willing."

Bill saw "Jill and Bob Bendick travelling out west in August, Tom Bell taking some law courses at Wisconsin summer school, and Randy Dygert during the ABC program in Williamstown last summer."

From the Navy, a letter from Pete Naylor: "I'm presently first lieutenant on the USS McCafferty, a Second World War tin can out of Mayport, Fla. We're now in the North Sea, calling at all the great Northern European ports.

"I saw Charley Randolph '66 on the USS Bigelow just before I left. He was in his usual jovial spirits and reports that he will get out at last next winter and is debating whether to return to Union Carbide or graduate school. I talked with Hugh Scott while visiting Boston. He's up to his ears as supply officer of the Charles H. Roar out of Newport. I also saw Charley Worrall '67, Fletcher Clark '69 and Rick Geller '69 in Cambridge just before our Atlantic crossing.

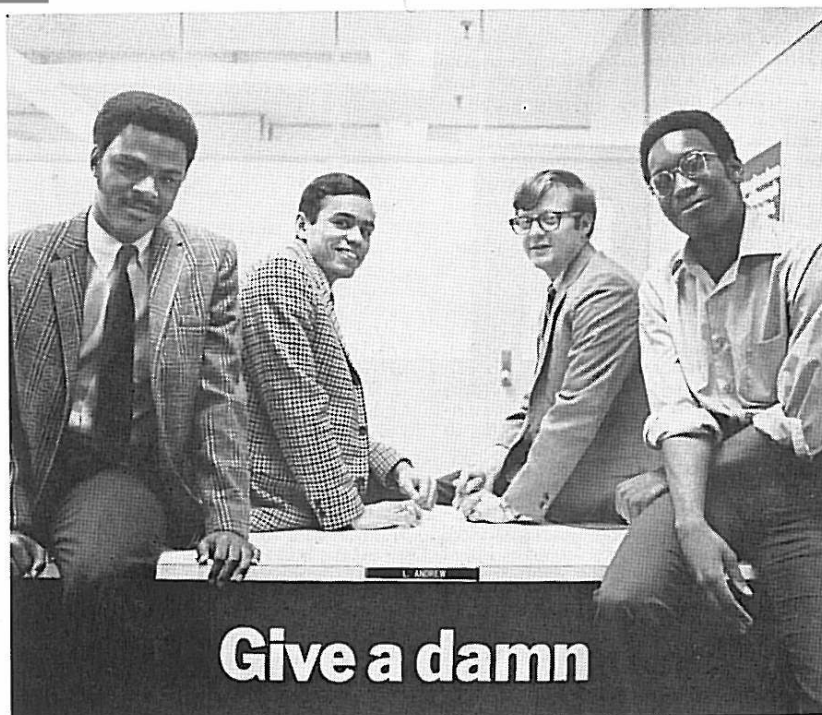

"Also got a letter from Jack Jacobs '69, who has just completed Air Force basic prior to officer school and can't believe we're serving in the same armed forces. Last fall I spent four months in Africa before entering OCS and saw Biff Steele '64 in Accra and Gidion Nkojo (Carter House '67) in Addis Abbaba. I might note that Cairo even now is safer than New York. Makes you think, doesn't it?"

Class agent Tom Pierce graduated from Navy OCS in August, where he was "regimental commander over 1,800 other guys," and is now on the destroyer USS Fiske out of Newport. "Met, of all things, a Vassar girl in Newport and fell in love for a week or two," Tom says, softly.

Fellow Naval officer Ed Rea was "in the midst of one of the more anti-war activities that the Navy offers — putting a ship in mothballs! Am in Bremerton, Wash., doing it after four months in Hawaii." Ed says he heard from John Coombe, who was getting married Sept. 6.

Kent Van Allen is a supply officer on the USS Wrangell, which is homeported in Charleston but now on a Mediterranean cruise. Bill Whitman is public affairs officer on the USS Hornet, which recently picked up Apollo 11.

Your secretary's biggest threat right now isn't the VC — it's little kids. I was taking pictures for a story in Hue amid a big crowd of children and motorcycles. I was walking back to my jeep when I discovered that someone got my wallet. And at the jeep, I found my brief case missing. All of which means a Wil-

Michael C. Hall, III '69, left, a summer intern with the Chase Manhattan Bank, was assigned by the bank to work with the Urban Coalition under a Public Affairs Internship program. Mr. Hall, shown here with other Urban Coalition summer workers, cataloged minority-owned businesses in the New York City area in order to identify possible markets for their goods as part of an economic development project.

President, Johan L. Hinderlie; Secretary, Eric D. Kelly, 700 West 17th St., Pueblo, Colo. 81003; Agent, Lowell S. Smith

Secretary Kelly reports:

Roadtripping, or just generally tripping, 69-ers will find friendly couches to sleep on spread far from Williamstown. From Honolulu, Jim Lapierre reports "long and arduous hours" in his during-and-after school work at the Hawaii School for Girls.

On the West Coast, Pat Dunn reports that the U. of Washington Law School is definitely un-Williams. Pat spent the summer working on housing under the Lindsay administration, was also seen in Boston, Washington and Troy. From Tacoma John Pascoe reports a lively summer sailing and swigging, with transients Dick Stout and Tom Smoll dropping in briefly. John is now teaching at Charles Wright Academy, where he is also head junior high football coach.

Art Lande reports that he and June-bridge Annette find San Francisco friendly. He is composing, frequenting jazz clubs and starting to get some gigs. A. J. Owens (recently engaged to Janet Andrews of Windsor, Conn.) reports a good life in Pasadena where he is studying at Cal Tech and doing draft-deferred essential research in high-energy physics. Tom Downey is at USC Law School in Los Angeles reports that he saw Joe Williams who says econ grad school (Stanford) is a "grind." Somebody else at USC sent his address but forgot his name. He sounds happy, though, and would like to have visitors.

A few hundred miles east, Wayne Eckerling is a VISTA Volunteer assigned to the Denver Public Schools. Much farther east, Jim Benes reports that he is an ideal husband and father, as well as a junior high school science teacher in Cleveland. Gary Robinson is in Columbus at the Ohio State University school of dentistry. He was married in Florida in August, and Sandy Smith was one of the ushers.

Herb Ogden spent the summer working in Munich and is now teaching at Detroit Country Day. He is living with Tom Parker, and they welcome any visitors. 368-38-5389-2 (alias Paul) Kessler reports that U. of Michigan is big. Jon Moore is in Lapeer, Mich., where he is fulfilling CO alternative service teaching retarded children. Scott Paist reports that having 40,000 fellow students, 25,000 of them women, is very un-Wil-
